

Resources schools may choose to share with parents

- Robin Hood Learning Academy Trust have posted 7 weeks' worth of home learning projects for years R to 6:

<https://www.robinhoodmat.co.uk/learning-projects/>

- This site lists you tube videos for all areas of the curriculum:

<https://www.teachingpacks.co.uk/50-youtube-channels-for-home-learning/>

- This site has non-screen based activities that can be done at home:

<https://medium.com/pobble/simple-and-fun-non-screen-activities-that-children-can-do-at-home-115543cb3b9c>

- English and Maths activities for Year R-6:

<https://home.oxfordowl.co.uk/school-closure-resources/?region=uk>

- Lots of free resources listed here, including some secondary, some are more aimed at teachers – but also includes plenty for parents to be doing at home:

<https://www.tutortastic.co.uk/blog/homelearning>

- Parents can sign up to Purple Mash for free during the pandemic – it's computing based, but cross-curricular:

<https://2simple.com/landing-pages/free-access-parent/>

Secondary schools may have their own platforms, apps and software packages.

- You-tube is excellent to learn most things – put the topic in the search engine and away you go.
- BBC are just in the middle of updating loads of resources for school aged children to support the National crisis of school shutting. Lots of games and resources for all ages here.
- Past papers for year 10,11,12, 13 can go on to there exam board (Edexcel) and search for their subject and level (GCSE/A'level) and down load past papers and answer papers (Obviously not the last two exams which are saved for schools as they are only for Teachers).

Some useful tools to look up:

- Centre of Excellence in Child Trauma – if you follow on Facebook there is a video 'Help for managing Covid 19 impact within trauma and therapeutic parenting'.
- Hand model of the brain for children. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=H_dxnYhdyuY
- Mindful Kids – 50 mindfulness activities to try and restore some calm and get the children to focus their minds (Amazon £7.54)

Finally, National Trust have waived entry fees and parking fees on the grounds of their properties to provide more space for people to get air and exercise in an open space, (this may change).